Byron,

Unrelated/Unresponsive

The project that is most likely to trigger a briefing soonest with you is R9's Rosemont Mine project. We are working with our regional, OW, and OGC counterparts to reach a meeting of the minds and develop options/recommendations; however, as indicated in the forecast report, we have a bit of work yet to do before we will be prepared to bring this to you. If you have any questions or would informally like a better understanding of the background and facts currently being considered in our deliberations on any of the listed projects, I can be available at your convenience.

V/R, Rob
